Remote Monitoring & Maintenance

We provide the proper upkeep and maintenance of your mission-critical systems, functioning just like your internal IT department, without costly salaries.

Even if your organization does have an internal IT department, we can work alongside them to perform the daily maintenance that they might not have time for. This helps them better innovate and provide new solutions for your business model.

On-Site-Services

Computer Pro Network's on-site services team is fully staffed and available to assist customers with IT requests that cannot be handled remotely.

With professional experience to resolve issues that require a technician to be on location, you can trust in fast response times to common issues without the need to add additional staff overhead costs.

Help Desk Support

Much more than a traditional helpdesk, our services provide our customers with professional and immediate support without the costly salary overhead.

Our remote support specialists can handle over 75% of IT issues remotely, focusing on rapid response time and first-call resolutions.

Managed Security

Your workstations and servers must have the most recent versions of their software and firmware to function properly.

Since new viruses, trojan horses, and other malware vulnerabilities are created every day, we provide the necessary maintenance that your computer system needs to help prevent problems that could cripple your organization.
